Appendix L

Resource List

Because each state has its own resources and hotline numbers, each state is responsible for developing its own resource list to direct mothers to any services they may need.

This resource list is included in each questionnaire mailing packet and should also be placed by the interviewing stations so that the information is available to interviewers as necessary. The Interviewer Training Manual provides examples of situations in which the interviewer may need to refer to the resource list (See Section 6.7 and Appendix E of the Interviewer Training Manual).

Protocol Development Task

Place your state's resource list here. If your state uses Spanish materials, place the Spanish resource list here as well.
