Health Communication Science Digest Searchable Archive

The Health Communication Science Digest (HCSD) Archive includes all Health Communication Science Digest issues in a searchable file.

You can search HCSD issues based on author names, keywords appearing in article titles, and/or journals. Information about a specific issue, such as month published or issue number, can also be searched.

Navigate to individual HCSD issues using the page icons at the bottom of the screen. Alternatively, you can navigate to an individual HCSD issue using the arrows (left and right) on the screen edge.

Double-clicking the issue image in the center of the screen enlarges the issue. Double-clicking again opens the individual issue PDF file.

For questions or comments, please contact HCSD@cdc.gov.

How to Search

To search, enter a word or phrase in the search box at the top right and click the binoculars symbol.

- Notice that you can modify your search with selectable "whole word" and "case sensitive" features. These can be very handy, for example, when search a term like "WOM" (i.e., an acronym for "word of mouth"). Entering the WOM term will yield results that also include the words "women" and "woman". Selecting the "case sensitive" option, however, will isolate the three articles examining WOM.
- Clicking on the search results will take you to where your search term appears within the portfolio.
