RE: Federal Register Notice—Workers' Family Protection Act

Dear Ms. Manning,

Enclosed is some material from our organization in response to the Federal Register Notice that requests information on the Workers' Family Protection Act (29 USC 671a). My apologies for not getting this material to you by the February 14th deadline but your director, Dr. Niemeier told me that you were still accepting responses.

The material includes information from one of our sister organizations' Pesticide Education Center (PEC). PEC is directed by Dr. Marion Moses, a physician specializing in occupational and environmental medicine with many years experience investigating and diagnosing pesticide-related illnesses in farm workers and their families.

I've also enclosed a bibliography of the monographs in our library that discusses worker poisonings in addition the last two issues of the Global Pesticide Campaigner that will give you an insight of our organization's mission to defend basic rights to health and environmental quality by challenging global proliferation of pesticides.

My apologies for not providing two copies of this material but as we are a non-profit organization, we must try to keep our overhead costs to a minimal. I hope that your department will find this information useful.

Sincerely,

Gina Bearse
