

About the Program

The World Trade Center (WTC) Health Program is a limited federal health care program that provides medical monitoring and treatment for conditions that are certified as related to a member's exposure on 9/11. You could be eligible for health care related to certified WTC-related health conditions at no out-of-pocket cost if you survived or responded to 9/11 in New York City, or responded to the Pentagon and the Shanksville, Pennsylvania sites.

What we do

The WTC Health Program provides no-cost health care benefits to eligible members enrolled as either a Responder or Survivor. These benefits provide medical monitoring and treatment for 9/11-related health conditions. These benefits include:

Pharmacy

Medical monitoring and treatment

Mental health care

Diagnostic services

Cancer screenings

Where you get care

As a member, you may receive care at a Clinical Center of Excellence (CCE) in the New York (NY) metropolitan area or through a Nationwide Provider Network (NPN) across the country.

CCE

If you live in the NY metropolitan area, you will be assigned to a CCE.

NPN

Members who live outside the NY metropolitan area can see WTC Health Program Participating Providers for their WTC-related health care across the country.

Who we serve

The WTC Health Program is dedicated to reaching the over 400,000 people estimated to be affected by 9/11 who may be eligible for coverage.

Currently enrolled in the WTC Health Program:

- Over 143,000 members
- Over 88,000 Responders
- Over 55,000 Survivors

Responder

Responded to, worked, or volunteered in the response and recovery of 9/11.

Survivor

Lived, worked, or went to school or daycare in the NYC Disaster Area during or following 9/11, or were present in the dust or dust cloud on 9/11.

How do I join?

If you are eligible, you can apply to the Program by mail or online. Applications and application instructions are available at www.cdc.gov/wtc/apply.html
