

National ALS Registry Consent Form

Background

ALS is the most common motor neuron disease which causes the deterioration of the upper and lower motor neurons. Motor neurons send signals to the muscles. There are a lot of questions about the number of people who have ALS and what causes it.

Purpose

The purpose of this research is to get a better picture of who gets ALS or other motor neuron diseases. The information could also be used to design studies about what causes ALS. You are being asked to take part because you have ALS. If you decide to register, you will be asked for information about you and where you live. If you take part in any of the survey modules, you will be asked to answer some questions about who you are, where you lived or worked, family history of ALS, hobbies and other activities in which you take part, and how you are coping with your disease. You will only be asked to answer most questions one time. You will be asked to complete questions on how you are coping with your ALS three times in the first year and twice a year thereafter. The survey modules can be done whenever you want. You can do them all at once or over a period of time.

Risks

The major risk of taking part is someone getting your information. To keep this from happening, we will limit who can see your information. We will also have computer security that keeps your information safe.

Benefits

There are no direct benefits to you. In the future, your information could help others with ALS.

Confidentiality

Your information will be kept private to the extent allowed by law. Only authorized individuals will have access to your information. Your information will be stored in a secure location with limited access. Any information that is published about people in the registry will not identify you.

Results

The website where you registered will have reports about what we learn from people who take part in the National ALS Registry and surveys.

Voluntary

Taking part is up to you. You do not have to take part and you can stop taking part at any time. You will not lose any benefits to which you are entitled if you do not take part or chose to quit.
