

Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System

On the Web

Help for BRFSS Users

The Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System (BRFSS) Web site shares data, documentation, questionnaires, training modules, and other information with BRFSS users, nationally and internationally. Users groups include:

- national, state, and local health departments;
- health promotion organizations;
- media;
- researchers;
- students; and
- the general public.

Free for Public Use

The BRFSS Web site provides a wealth of free behavioral health-risk data for all states, support materials, and these resources:

- state- and local-level maps and prevalence tables;
- downloadable data sets and documentation;
- complete questionnaire text;
- training resources;
- information on research and publications; and
- much more!

Open to Your Feedback

Feedback from BRFSS Web site users is important for guiding future updates. All users can submit comments about the site through the "Contact Us" link at the bottom of every page on the BRFSS site.

BRFSS is a state-based system that is administered by the Division of Behavioral Surveillance in CDC's Public Health Surveillance and Informatics Program Office; Office of Surveillance, Epidemiology, and Laboratory Services.
