

Charity: No Matter Your Age, Know Your Breast Cancer Risk (30 second) – with Audio Descriptive Transcript

Audio Descriptive Text

- At 27, Charity was diagnosed with stage three inflammatory breast cancer.
- Photos of Charity before and after breast cancer treatment.
- Chart showing the rounds of radiation therapy.
- Charity walking with a bar bell around the Washington D.C. area.
- Charity taking notes regarding her therapy and results.
- No matter your age, know your risk of breast cancer.
- The last screen shows the logos for the Bring Your Brave campaign, CDC and HHS, and directs viewers to visit <http://www.cdc.gov/bringyourbrave>.

Video Summary

At age 27 Charity was diagnosed with breast cancer. Find out how she took a proactive approach to her health – and what she wants other young women to know about their breast cancer risks.

Audio Script

[Charity] Breast cancer just doesn't happen to someone that's 75 years old.

[music playing]

I went through total - eight rounds of chemotherapy...double mastectomy, and then I went through 33 rounds of radiation.

I tested positive for the BRCA2 mutation.

Being proactive in your health is definitely the most important thing. Talk to your doctor. There isn't just one face to breast cancer.

[music fades out]