

I Never Get The Flu

[Female] I never get the flu.

[Female] My kids don't need more shots.

[Male] I don't have time.

[Female] We're all healthy.

[Female] My asthma's under control.

[Female] But, I'm pregnant.

[Female] I've had the flu before; it's not a big deal.

[Female] My kids are too old for flu.

[Male] The media is exaggerating.

[Female] I can fight it naturally.

[Male] My diabetes—it's under control.

[Narrator] No matter how you build your excuses, H1N1 swine flu can blow your house down.

[Male] I can't believe I used up all my sick time.

[Female] I missed a week of school during finals.

[Male] Now my baby has it because of me.

[Female] The hospital? Death?

[Narrator] Keep your foundation strong. Vaccinate. Learn more at flu.gov.

[Announcer] A message from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.
