Pregnant women residing in an area with Zika Testing Algorithms

Updated Interim Guidance: Testing Algorithm for a Pregnant Woman Residing in an Area with Active Zika Virus Transmission, with or without Clinical Illness Consistent with Zika Virus Disease

*Local health officials determine when to implement testing of asymptomatic pregnant women based on information about levels of Zika virus transmission and laboratory capacity.

*Clinical illness is consistent with Zika virus disease if one or more signs/symptoms (acute onset of fever, rash, arthralgia, or conjunctivitis) are present.

*Prevention of Zika virus disease through mosquito bite prevention is highly recommended for pregnant women.

*Testing for Zika virus infection is recommended for pregnant women who have traveled to or lived in areas with active Zika virus transmission.

Fetal abnormalities consistent with Zika virus disease may present only late second or early third trimester of pregnancy.
