

GH 512 – Health in Complex Emergencies
Emory University, Rollins School of Public Health
March 12-16, 2007, 9:00am– 4:30pm

SESSION 1 – Monday

Refugees, displaced persons, conflict and complex emergencies: setting the stage

Who are the major actors in complex emergencies? Where do we fit in?

Camp management and public health intervention- coordination, logistics, distribution systems, water and sanitation

Food and nutrition

Class exercise: Kabir

SESSION 2 – Tuesday

Rapid health assessment and surveillance in complex emergencies

Class exercise: Riverina I

SESSION 3 – Wednesday

Water and sanitation

HIV and sexually transmitted infections

Malaria

Vaccination and vaccine-preventable diseases

Reproductive health

SESSION 4 – Thursday

Communicable diseases: an overview

Diarrheal disease

Acute respiratory infection

Class exercise: Cholera

SESSION 5 – Friday

Mental Health including stress in aid workers

Liberia

Recent CDC field experience

Discussion and Q and A with external partners

Explanation of final exam and course evaluations