

Seeking your Input: Participate in Developing the First-ever STI Federal Action Plan

May 3, 2019 | By: Office of HIV/AIDS and Infectious Disease Policy

We want to hear from you!

Sexually transmitted infections (STIs) continue to surge across the nation warranting a federal response. The U.S. Department of Health & Human Services (HHS) Office of HIV/AIDS and Infectious Disease Policy (OHAIDP) is offering multiple ways for the public to take an active role in helping to develop an inaugural federal action plan for the prevention, diagnosis, care and treatment of STIs.

Submit your comments in writing

OHAIDP has published a Request for Information \(RFI\) in the Federal Register to solicit written comments, recommendations, and ideas for developing the STI Federal Action Plan. HHS seeks input from a broad mix of stakeholders on what strategies can be implemented by federal agencies to improve the efficiency, effectiveness, coordination, accountability, and impact of our federal response to the surge of STIs.

Electronic responses are strongly preferred and may be emailed to STDplan@hhs.gov. To be assured consideration, comments must be received no later than 5:00 p.m. ET on June 3, 2019.

Join our next virtual listening session!

The upcoming listening session is an opportunity to learn more about the plan and share your comments with OHAIDP. Please register below for the final STI Federal Action Plan virtual listening session.

- Thursday, May 9, 2019: Virtual Listening Session from 3:00—5:00 pm (ET). Click here to register.

We will share all of the input gathered from the RFI and listening sessions with our federal partners, and will collectively use it to inform the development of the STI Federal Action Plan.

We look forward to receiving your ideas and input!
