

Listening and Acting Quickly could help save her life.

How Can You Help?

Mothers are the key to life. It is important to keep mothers healthy and safe during and after pregnancy by hearing their concerns and ensuring they get the care they need.

- Learn the urgent maternal warning signs.
- Listen to her concerns.
- Encourage her to seek medical help. If something doesn't feel right, she should reach out to her provider. If she is experiencing an urgent maternal warning sign, she should get medical care right away. Be sure that she says she is pregnant or was pregnant within the last year.
- Offer to go with her to get medical care and help her ask questions.
- Take notes and help her talk to a healthcare provider to get the support she needs.
- Support her through follow-up care.

Urgent Maternal Warning Signs

If someone who is pregnant or was pregnant within the last year has any of these symptoms, she should get medical care immediately.

Hear Her

Pregnancy complications can happen up to a year after birth. If your loved one shares that something doesn't feel right, support her to get the care and answers she may need. Learn the urgent warning signs that need immediate medical attention. Here are some talking points to help with the conversation:

During Pregnancy

- It's hard to tell what's normal with everything that's changing right now. It's better to check if there's anything you are worried about.
- It's important that we share this information with your doctor and make sure everything is okay.
- I am here for you. Let's talk to a healthcare provider to get you the care you need.

After Pregnancy

- It's normal to feel tired and have some pain after giving birth, but you know your body best. If something is worrying you, you should talk to your doctor.
- While your new baby needs a lot of attention and care, it's important to take care of yourself, too.
- You are not alone. I hear you. Let's talk to a healthcare provider to get you the care you need.
