

This flu season has been worse than average and particularly severe for the elderly. Although it's far from perfect, flu vaccination is by far the best tool we have to protect from flu.