

In the Morbidity Mortality Weekly Report CDC offers encouraging news about our global fight against HIV. In Malawi, the number of pregnant and breastfeeding women with HIV infection who started life-saving antiretroviral treatment increased more than seven times after the start of a new policy.