

RACIAL AND ETHNIC APPROACHES TO COMMUNITY HEALTH (REACH) AWARDEES

Fiscal Year 2017

The REACH program works to reduce health disparities and improve health by implementing proven interventions to reduce smoking, increase physical activity and good nutrition, and reduce the complications associated with chronic diseases among African Americans, Hispanics/Latinos, Asian Americans, Alaska Natives, and Pacific Islanders.

In FY 2017, REACH funded $23.2 million to 49 awardees that represent governmental agencies and nongovernmental organizations, including local health departments, American Indian Tribes/Tribal Organizations, universities, and community-based organizations. Awardees serve populations across the United States that experience some of the highest rates of chronic diseases.
