Adult Day Services Letter of Support

In 2018, CDC's National Center for Health Statistics will conduct the fourth wave of the National Study of Long-Term Care Providers (NSLTCP), a biennial national study of the major sectors of paid, regulated providers of long-term care services. This data collection effort will include a representative sample of adult day services centers across the country. National data collection will start in late July.

The information collected will help policymakers, health care planners, and providers better understand, plan for, and serve the future long-term care needs of the older population and disabled adults. While results from this survey will be made publicly available, all data will be kept strictly confidential and aggregated, so that the names of the centers, staff, participants, and respondents will not be identifiable.

NADSA, LeadingAge, and NASUAD appreciate your participation in this important national initiative. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact us at our national office.
