

FACT OR FICTION

A growing majority of teenagers in the U.S. have had sexual intercourse.

Answer: FICTION.

Less than half of teens age 15-19 have ever had sexual intercourse, according to data collected between 2011 and 2013.

Over the past 25 years, the percentage of teens who've had sexual intercourse has declined by 14% for females and by 22% for males.
