RE:

- Public Docket Number 021--Comments for the Y-12 National Security Complex Documents
- Public Docket Number 023--Comments for the Oak Ridge National Laboratory Documents

Dear Sir/Madam:

I am a claimant under the Energy Employees Occupational Illness Compensation Program Act (EEOICPA). My mother worked for Y-12 and the Oak Ridge National Laboratory (X-10). I have reviewed the Y-12 and X-10 Technical Basis Documents which are currently posted on the NIOSH website. Three of the buildings in which my mother worked are not mentioned in the Documents, as listed below:

Y-12

Building 9733-4. I could not find mention of this building anywhere in the Y-12 Technical Basis Document.

Oak Ridge National Laboratory (X-10)

Buildings 9733-1 and 9733-2. It is my interpretation that the Oak Ridge National Laboratory Technical Basis Document intended to list every building on the site in its Oak Ridge National Laboratory Facility Index - Appendix 2A. Buildings 9733-1 and 9733-2 are not listed in Appendix 2A and I could not find them in the main text. I read in the Document that the 9000 series buildings for X-10 are actually located at Y-12. However, these buildings are not mentioned in the Y-12 Document either.

Please advise me as to what assumptions will be made during dose reconstruction since no information is given in the Technical Basis Documents for these workplaces.

Sincerely,
