

CDC #HowIRecommend
Vaccination Video Series

Video Question: What do you say to parents who have HPV vaccine safety concerns?

Lacey Eden, MS, NP-C:

I start by telling the parent that the HPV vaccine has been around for many years, and that we have given millions of doses of the HPV vaccine, and have found it to be very safe and very effective.

It's important that parents understand that I would never recommend anything that is not in the best interest of their child.
