

CDC Funding Opportunity Announcements (FOAs) and Inclusion of Accreditation-related Language

In October 2012, CDC began using a standardized template which provided consistent language and formatting for all new non-research, domestic funding opportunity announcements (FOAs). The new FOA template includes language related to applicants from state, tribal, local, or territorial governments and the ability to use funds to seek or maintain national public health accreditation, so long as it aligns with the intent and statutory authorities of the FOA.

What does the accreditation-related language look like and where can it be found?

Organizational Capacity Statement — Some FOAs include the following language in the guidance that asks applicants to describe their organizational capacity:

[A]pplicants may describe their current status in applying for public health department accreditation or evidence of accreditation. Information on accreditation may be found at <http://www.phaboard.org>.

Budget Narrative Guidance — The following language is included in the budget narrative sections of FOAs. The language changed slightly after FY 2013.

Language in FY 2013 FOAs: State and local governments or their Bona Fide Agents (this includes the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, American Samoa, Guam, the Federated States of Micronesia, the Republic of the Marshall Islands, and the Republic of Palau), political subdivisions of States (in consultation with States), Federally recognized or state-recognized American Indian/Alaska Native tribal governments, and American Indian/Alaska native tribally designated organizations may, if consistent with statutory authority, use funds for activities, as they relate to the intent of this FOA, to meet national standards and/or seek health department accreditation through the Public Health Accreditation Board (<http://www.phaboard.org>). This includes activities that enable a public health organization to deliver public health services such as activities that ensure: a capable and qualified workforce, up-to-date information systems, and the capability to assess and respond to public health needs. Use of these funds should focus on achieving one or more national standards that support the intent of this FOA. Proposed activities must be included in the budget narrative and must indicate which standards will be addressed.

Language in FY 2014 – FY 2016 FOAs: If applicable and consistent with the stated cited statutory authority, applicant entities may use funds for activities as they relate to the intent of this FOA to meet national standards or seek health department accreditation through the Public Health Accreditation Board (see: <http://www.phaboard.org>). Applicant entities include state, local, territorial governments (including the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, American Samoa, Guam, the Federated States of Micronesia, the Republic of the Marshall Islands, and the Republic of Palau), or their bona fide agents, political subdivisions of states (in consultation with states), federally recognized or state-recognized American Indian or Alaska Native tribal governments, and American Indian or Alaska Native tribally designated organizations. Activities include those that enable a public health organization to deliver public health services such as activities that ensure a capable and qualified workforce, up-to-date information systems, and the capability to assess and respond to public health needs. Use of these funds must focus on achieving a minimum of one national standard that supports the intent of the FOA. Proposed activities must be included in the budget narrative and must indicate which standards will be addressed.

Glossary — For any FOAs that include PHAB accreditation-related language, PHAB has been added to the FOA glossary.

Public Health Accreditation Board: PHAB is the national accrediting organization for public health departments. A nonprofit organization, PHAB is dedicated to advancing the continuous quality improvement of Tribal, state, local, and territorial public health departments by advancing the quality and performance of all public health departments in the United States through national public health department accreditation.

Which FOAs include this language?

This is pertinent to non-research, domestic FOAs released since October 2012. The attached table shows FOAs released during FY 2013 - FY2016 that include the PHAB-related language. The table is updated periodically and the last-updated date is noted at the top of the table. The far right column indicates where to find PHAB-related language in each FOA. The FOA numbers hyperlink to each archived FOA.

Where do I find this in new FOAs?

All new FOAs are released and made available on <http://grants.gov>. Look at the sections mentioned above to see if the accreditation-related language is included in a new FOA. If it is included, health department applicants might want to consider exploring options for supporting accreditation-readiness activities that are also well-aligned with the intent of the FOA.
