Tips for Discussing Sexual Health With Your Patient

Many patients have sexual health questions and want your insight but are hesitant about initiating the conversation. By asking all your adult and adolescent patients a few essential questions, you help to remove the stigma around discussing sex and normalize these conversations.
Refine Your Skills at Facilitating Such Talks by Practicing the Following Strategies:

Assess your own comfort by discussing sex with various patient groups and identify any biases that you may have. If you are uncomfortable talking about sex and sexuality, your patient will be too.

Make your patient feel comfortable by establishing a rapport before asking sensitive questions.

Use neutral and inclusive terms such as “partner” and pose your questions in a non-judgmental manner.

Avoid assumptions about your patient based on age, appearance, marital status, or any other factor. Unless you ask, you cannot know a person’s sexual orientation, behaviors, or gender identity.

Try not to react overtly, even if you feel uncomfortable or embarrassed. Pay attention to your body language and posture.

Rephrase your questions or briefly explain why you are asking a question if a patient seems offended or reluctant to answer.

Ensure that you and your patient share an understanding of the terms being used to avoid confusion. If you are not familiar with a term your patient used, ask for an explanation.

Ask for correct pronouns or terminology when talking to a transgender patient. Use those pronouns and support that patient’s current gender identity, even if their anatomy does not match that identity.
Transition to asking sensitive questions. Let your patient know that you ask these questions of everyone. If a partner, relative, or caregiver is in the room, ask that person to step into the waiting room. They can be invited back after the examination.

“I’m going to ask you a few questions about your sexual health. Since sexual health is very important to overall health, I ask all my patients these questions.

Before I begin, do you have any questions or sexual concerns you’d like to discuss?”
Questions to Ask Your Patients

1. Have you been sexually active in the past year?
   - YES
     - What are the genders of your sexual partners?
   - NO
     - Have you ever been sexually active?
       - YES
         - What are the genders of your sexual partners?
       - NO
         - Continue with medical history

   In the past 12 months, how many sexual partners have you had?

   Ask this follow-up question for each gender provided by the patient.
Additional Questions to Ask

The following questions correspond with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention’s 5P’s approach to taking a sexual history [Partners, Practices, Past History of Sexually Transmitted Disease [STD], Protection, and Pregnancy Prevention/Reproductive Life Plan]. Learn more at: cdc.gov/std/treatment/sexualhistory.pdf.

Partners
- Do you know whether your partner has other sexual partners?
- In the past 3 months, have you had sex with someone you didn’t know or had just met?
- Have you ever been coerced or pressured to have sex?

Practices
- In the past 3 months, what kinds of sex have you had? Anal? Vaginal? Oral?
  (For men who have sex with men: Ask about receptive anal sex, insertive anal sex, or both.)
- Have you or any of your partners used alcohol or drugs when you had sex?
- Have you ever exchanged sex for drugs or money?
Past History of STD

- Have you ever had an STD?
  If yes: Which STD? Where was the infection? When did you have it? Was (were) your partner(s) treated too?

- Have you ever been tested for HIV?
  If yes: How long ago was that test? What was the result?

Protection

- What do you do to protect yourself from STDs, including HIV?
- When do you use this protection? With which partners?
- Have you been vaccinated against human papillomavirus? Hepatitis A? Hepatitis B?

Pregnancy Prevention/Reproductive Life Plan

- Do you have any desire to have (more) children?
  If yes: How many children would you like to have?
- When would you like to have a child?
- What are you and your partner doing to prevent pregnancy until that time?
  If no: Are you doing anything to prevent pregnancy?
  (Be sure to ask this question of any patient who could become pregnant, including transgender men and other people assigned female at birth.)

Consider asking additional questions to better understand your patient’s level of risk, determine whether you need to recommend screenings or vaccinations, and offer appropriate counseling.
