Native Diabetes Wellness Program

Growing Traditional Foods and Sustainable Approaches into the future – The CDC is committed to supporting tribes in their efforts to restore traditional healthy foods and forms of exercise for the prevention of type 2 diabetes. A brief presentation will describe Indian community successes stemming from the Traditional Foods Project. The Native Diabetes Wellness Program wishes to consult with the Tribal Advisory Committee regarding the future of the Traditional Foods Project, scheduled to culminate in September of 2013. The Traditional Foods Project directly funds 17 tribes/tribal organizations to promote access to local healthy traditional foods and physical activity for the prevention of diabetes.

Dawn Satterfield, RN, Ph: Team Lead, Native Diabetes Wellness Program, Division of Diabetes Translation, National Center for Chronic Disease Prevention and Public Health Promotion
